Question

Please could you tell me whether your service uses any form of portable printer?

Answer

The Scottish Ambulance Service currently have printers in the A&E ambulances. Crew generally leave a printed copy of the patient report form with the patient if they are not taken to hospital by us. We also use the printers to provide a printed copy of the patient record for handover at hospital.

Any advice from the crews can be written by the crew within the patient report form that is printed and left with the patient.
